

Greetings from the President Claudio Riedi

At the end of June 2019, our Consul General, Ms. Annette Klein left her post in Miami and returned to Germany for a new position in the Auswärtige Amt in Berlin. Consul General Siegel will take over the position in July, and work his way into the posting. We are looking forward to meeting him and introducing him to our members in the coming months.

I have now experienced this ritual of changing the Consuls General in Miami about ten times, and it still strikes me as remarkable. I imagine Consul General Klein, building relationships, and taking on tasks in Miami, seeking to effect long-term change in many ways. I see her representing Germany ably in so many events, I cannot count them, and I see her build friendships and lasting relationships. And then, just as she gets her groove, she is ordered to return to Germany for an entirely different posting. This cannot be easy. My children went to school with the children of former Deputy Consul General of Germany here in Miami, and I heard of the trials of families of diplomats. How do you grow roots in a community, if they are cut every three years?

And yet, Consuls General such as Annette Klein build these relationships – grow these roots – over and over again, and become the links of official Germany to groups such as the GABC. We rely on the Consulate for help in so many ways, and a representative of the consulate – often Annette Klein herself – sits in on many of our meetings with comments and suggestions. I dare to say that without this close cooperation between the Consulate and the GABC, there would be no GABC.

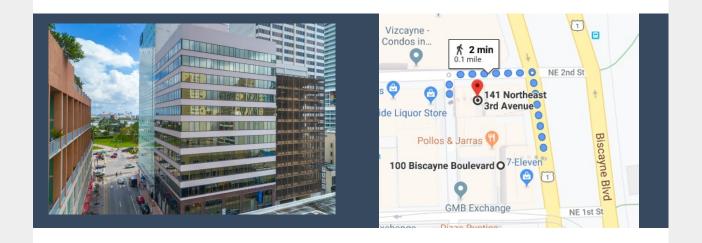

So, we bid farewell to Consul General Klein with a laughing and a crying eye: We laugh because we know that we have gained another friend in high places, together with Consul General Klein's many predecessor, whom I remember most fondly. And we cry because just as we were getting to know Consul General Klein, we lose her.

But because I am a "glass-half-full" person, I raise that half-full glass to thank Consul General Klein for her support, and wish her well on her future endeavors. Auf wiedersehen, Frau Klein, either here or in Berlin.

Immigration News: Collection of Social Media Identifiers from Visa Applicants

By Ellen von Geyso, Attorney-at-Law und Rechtsanwältin www.vongeyso.com

Have you thought about applying for a visa to travel to the USA? If so, then as of May 31, 2019, you must be prepared to provide information about your social media presence. As a result of an updated application format, about 15 million people per year will be affected. Thus, applicants for a US visa are now required to provide details on their social media profiles, phone numbers, and email addresses.

The US Department of State confirmed that it has modified its application forms "for migrants and non-migrants" visas so as to "request additional information from most applicants, including social media identifiers." According to that Department, "national security is our top priority when adjudicating visas applications. ... We are constantly working to find mechanisms to improve our screening processes to protect US citizens, while supporting legitimate entry to the United States." These changes are a result of President Trump's March 6, 2017, "Memorandum on Implementing Heightened Screening and Vetting of Applications for Visas and other Immigration Benefits" and Section 5 of Executive Order 13780 regarding implementing uniform screening and vetting standards for visa applications.

Ich bin ein Außenseiter

By Gary D. Malfeld June 14, 2019

I am an outsider in South Florida's German/German American Community. Both of my grandfathers spoke German, aber Ich spreche nur ein bisschen Deutsch. Notwithstanding that reality, I have been involved with elements of the German and German American communities in the Miami area during much of the time since 1985. Still trying to figure out why.

I grew up in a part of Iowa where most of my neighboring farmers had a German surname. Over time, and with age, I came to believe that many of the values and idiosyncracies which typified their behavior and identities had been passed down to them from their ancestors who came from Germany to the U.S. in the latter half of the nineteenth century. So when, in 1977 my family became members of the German American Social Club, I was immediately comfortable in the presence of those strangers who constituted the membership of the GASC.

Now is the Time to Travel to

Once again, new US restrictions on travel to Cuba for persons subject to US jurisdiction are causing confusion and misunderstandings. Don't let the many rumors and half-truths out there impress you.

Here is the full scoop - executive summary: What happened effective June 6th 2019 is that one available category of travel, the so-called general licenses, was retracted. So now, instead of 12 there are 11. Additionally, cruises from the US are no longer going to Cuba. That's basically it for most travelers.

A short layover of a few hours during a cruise was never the best way to explore this beautiful country. To meaningfully immerse into the rich culture and get to know the Cuban people, staying at one of the beautiful Casas Privadas and eating at Paladares is the way to roll. Compared to most Central American and Caribbean countries, Cuba is one of the safest and most impressive destinations. Now, the streets are mostly void of the masses of tourists streaming off the cruise ships. If you haven't been, I am sure your first trip will be an incredible eye opener and have you coming back for more. After all, we are only about a ½ hour flight away coming from Miami.

My name is Harald Tobias Boers. I am married and I have three children and a dog. Currently we live in Hamburg, Germany. My wife and I met in 1999 at Kentwood High school (state Washington) during a student exchange. Ever since our dream is to move to the USA, in specific Florida. Therefore, I am constantly seeking for jobs in Florida. After graduating from high school I decided to become a nurse. After working shortly as a nurse I started working for the company of my parents in law as an assistant manager. During that time, they could not find qualified personnel. Consequently, I decided to enter their business which was operating in the air conditioning and building technology sector. That is how I started my career within a new field of profession. After a couple years working for the business of my parents in law a customer of their business offered me a job as a service technician which I accepted. The coming years I attended different trainings developing my skills and knowledge in the field of air conditioning, air pollution control and clean room technology. Besides, my work experience in these specific fields contributed to my knowledge and skills. My hands on mentality and my passion for clean rooms and air conditioning technology in particular helped me to permanently improve my
