

Newsletter August/Septmeber 2018

Greetings from the President

In Memory of Walter Loy

Change is unavoidable. Change is good. A business that does not constantly reinvent itself is doomed. That is particularly true for chambers of commerce, including the GABC.

The GABC has embraced change, and seeks out new initiatives and ideas daily. New Members, with new member profiles. A new board. A new webpage... And then we are reminded most charringly that change – while necessary – also means loss.

In the last eight months, the GABC has lost two of its founding members – first Tom Baur in December 2017, and more recently Walt Loy, who passed away in North Carolina on June 25, 2018. They left behind gaping holes in our organization, holes we will struggle to fill for years.

Both were mentors to me. Walter showed me how to behave on a board, how to lead a board, how to conduct business, all invaluable lessons. Please read the tribute to Walt in this newsletter. More importantly, read Walt Loy's memoirs, penned by the maestro himself a few years back. We are linking them on our newsletter. Send the link to everyone who knew Walt, but did not know the life story of this remarkable man. They will thank you.

As you read this newsletter – the first ever Walt Loy is not reading himself - marvel for a moment at what Walter and Tom have done for this organization, and how far we have come. Consider how all the new members, and new activities, exist only because of the founders' vision and energy. Realize that none of our initiatives would take place if Walt and Tom had not lead us to where we are. So let's embrace change, but let's also remember those who came before us and encouraged us to go new ways. Let's dedicate this issue to Walt Loy and Tom Baur.

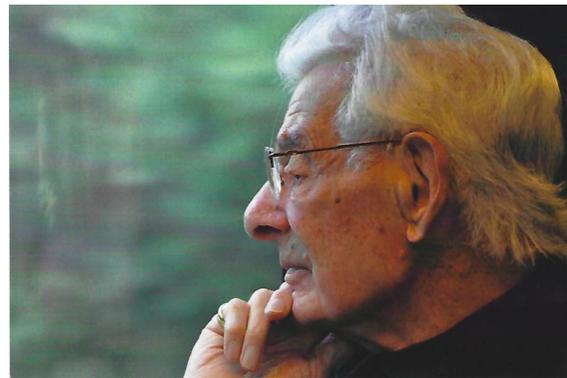

Walter Loy: An Honorary GABC Founder

Walter Loy, Mentor, Friend, and Leader

The German American Business Chamber had the good fortune of Walter Loy's leadership in the prime of his presence. When the organization was founded by Walt and others in 1988, he had already served on the Board of the Intercontinental Group, had opened countless new markets for PanAmerican Airways, had served in the Philippines under General McArthur, had formed a beautiful family, and had relocated from Germany to Italy to Switzerland to the United States and beyond in search of his destiny. He once told me he had lived in 54 countries, but I am sure there were many more.

So when the German Business Community sought direction and leadership in the 1980s, Walter volunteered, as he had done so many times before. Within a short time, he helped build the organization from a small Wirtschaftszirkel, to the German American Trade Council and later, as President, to the German American Business Chamber – affiliated with chapters in Orlando, Tampa and Naples. All along, the members of the GABC had the privilege of observing Walt in action and of learning from him.

Walter was unusually generous with constructing criticism. He had the uncanny

With Walter's passing on June 25, 2018, all members and friends of the GABC are charged to continue Walt's legacy: build bridges, embrace multi-nationalism and diplomacy, approach strangers and include them in your group, solve issues with class, all traits in short supply today. I know for a fact that Walt will participate in all GABC activities in the future—if no longer via Skype from North Carolina, then via resonance of his style in all of those he touched. The GABC is one of Walter's legacies, and all our lives are better for having experienced him.

ability to nudge his friends with fatherly advice, mostly dispensed by way of the Socratic method: “did you ever consider...” Dozens of us became Walter-groupies, and he became a mentor to all of us, near and far. Many a telephone call with Walter began with “I have just spoken to soandso in the Aland Islands, and he” or: “we are on our way to my son Peter in Holland...” all when Walt was well into his 90s.

But the best were Walter’s incomparable stories from his years at PanAm, which gave us a taste of what we all could hope to experience some day in our professional lives. Among my favorite stories relayed to me by Walt was the time when he fought fire with fire, as the competing American Airlines had installed a piano bar on the upper deck of its jumbo jets servicing the crucial Puerto Rico market. Walter responded by placing Mariachi bands in Pan Am’s jumbos, but he quickly discovered that the dry, thin air made it almost impossible for even the most boisterous Mariacho to sustain a tune for longer than 30 minutes. So, Walter placed backup singers in the planes, at great expense to PanAm, but with great success: Within a few days, his counterpart at American Airlines called him to surrender his sword: “If you withdraw the Mariachi, we will take out the piano bar,” Walter told the story. And so, the equilibrium in the industry was restored by Walter with a twinkle in his eye and nary a sour note. That was his style.

You will learn so much more of his sons, of his relationship and rock-in-life, Kathy, of his milestones and his adventures. Do yourself a favor and read what it means to live a life to its fullest.

Meet & Greet with Thomas Anders

Dear GABC Family and Friends,

Our member Sogol Afsharjavan will have the "Meet & Greet" event in which fans can spend some time with Thomas Anders -the singer from Modern Talking- previous to their concert on August 14th.

Please note that this event is separate to the concert and therefore it requires the purchase of a different ticket.

Dear GABC friends, in anticipation of the exciting, upcoming Thomas Anders concert, on August 14th, 2018, I would like to share with you that I will be proudly hosting a very intimate "Meet & Greet" event at my new Lifestyle Concept House "Platform 410" located at 410 Meridian Ave, Miami Beach FL 33139 on August 14th at 6:00 PM.

In 1986, I had the pleasure of meeting Thomas Anders in our hometown, Koblenz and now I am happy to welcome him in our tropical Paradise Miami.

This special gathering is limited to a total of 40 fans, who would like to take a picture with Thomas along with his autograph as well as receiving a copy of his "Strong Thomas Anders" album. Our guests will enjoy Champagne and light appetizers along with some memorable Modern Talking tunes.

Please visit the link for purchasing your Meet & Greet tickets:

Our Member Christel Silver Marks An Extraordinary Real Estate Debut

Das Immobiliengeschäft in den USA

So geht Makeln in Florida

Arbeiten, wo andere Urlaub machen. Immobilienmakler, die in Florida tätig sind, können das. Doch wie läuft das Maklergeschäft in den USA eigentlich genau ab und was sind die entscheidenden Unterschiede zu Deutschland? Die gebürtige Berlinerin Christel Silver ist seit 1985 als Immobilienmaklerin in den USA tätig und gibt im Interview Einblicke über den Beruf des Immobilienmaklers.

Interview von Julia Ceidina

Wie wird man in den USA zum Immobilienmakler?

Eine Erklärung vorab: Da in allen 50 Staaten die Vorschriften für Immobiliengeschäfte unterschiedlich geregelt sind: Alles was ich hier erwähne gilt ausschließlich für Florida. Um Makler zu werden, braucht man eine Lizenz. Genau genommen gibt es zwei Stufen. In Florida brauchen Sie 63 Stunden Ausbildung mit einem erfolgreichen Abschluss und einer Prüfung, die beim Staat absolviert werden muss. Besteht man diese, so erhält man die Lizenz zum Verkauf von Immobilien.

Und dann darf man ausschließlich in Florida verkaufen?

eine Broker Lizenz. Damit kann man seine eigene Firma aufmachen und andere Immobilienmakler unter seine Obhut nehmen. Man muss aber nicht selbst ein Büro öffnen. Der Broker ist für alle Makler in seinem Büro verantwortlich.

Gibt es auch in Florida einen Verband von Immobilienmaklern?

Ja, den gibt es. Allerdings ist man, genauso wie beim IVD, zu keiner Mitgliedschaft verpflichtet. Man kann Mitglied bei NAR (National Association of Realtors) werden. Durch die Mitgliedschaft versprechen wir uns zu ethischem und moralischem Tun und können uns als „Realtor“® bezeichnen. Sollten Sie also mit einem Makler in den USA Kontakt miteinander zu vergleichen. Ein Notary in den USA wird vom Gouverneur ernannt – und braucht keine spezielle Ausbildung. Ich bin zum Beispiel ein Notary: kann also Unterschriften beglaubigen und in Florida dafür $2-$4 verlangen, ich kann eidesstattliche Versicherungen abnehmen und wenn Sie von der Hochzeit am Strand träumen, kann ich das Heiratsgelöbnis abnehmen. Ein sehr günstiger Deal also.

Und wer kümmert sich um das Vertragliche?

Wir schreiben die Verträge, aber sie sind von der Anwaltskammer und der Immobilienvereinigung genehmigt und wir Makler füllen eigentlich nur die Lücken

The Uninsured in America Flirt with Financial Doom

Traumatic Hospital Event

Followed by Bankruptcy...

by: Armando A. Diaz

5/11/2018

As if a horrible injury or illness isn't enough, for 7 out of 10 Americans, it would quickly be followed by financial catastrophe. "Everyone in America's at risk for an accidental injury, and not everyone's protected from the financial consequences," said Dr. John Scott, lead author of the study and a surgery resident at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston.

Let's say an uninsured individual is in an accident and due to injury, must be rushed to the hospital for emergency care. You will be seen, you will be saved... And it's important not to forget, you WILL be billed. What will occur next?

1. The hospital will try to collect from the individual.
2. If the person is employed but underinsured, or if they do have some form of income, the hospital will send the remainder of the bill to collections, which can bankrupt the individual.

A whopping 7% of adults struggling with medical bills over the past two years have declared bankruptcy, and an incredible 60% of people with problems paying their medical bills have been contacted by a collection agency.

From German to American Healthcare; A Basic Guide for German Expatriates.

April 2018

By Armando A. Diaz

The United States' healthcare system is a complex maze complete with twists and turns. At WellAway, we want our members and affiliates to rest assured we are ready to help them navigate the system. Below, we feature Obamacare (Affordable Care Act), some basic differences in German vs U.S. healthcare and general insurance terms. With this jump off point, you are on your way to understanding the system, albeit this is just the beginning...

First things first... Let's talk Obamacare (ACA)

What is Obamacare (also known as ACA or the Affordable Care Act)?

In the United States, groups are required to provide healthcare coverage or pay a tax penalty through the Affordable Care Act (ACA/Obamacare). Furthermore, the coverage must be compliant with rules called Minimum Essential Coverage (MEC). In late 2017, the United States Senate has repealed the mandate through a tax reform bill for individuals. Groups are still accountable to provide minimum insurance or face penalties in the United States.

Obamacare/ACA has made sweeping changes to the U.S. health care system and how individuals receive access and coverage for medical care. Many of the ACA's health care reforms are primarily focused on reducing the uninsured population and decreasing costs.

How do I avoid group tax penalties?

As mentioned above, the act will penalize those groups (such as a German business operating in the U.S.) The rules still call for employers with 50+ full-time employees operating in the U.S. and/or full-time equivalents to continue offering
